PROJECTS

NoTable, Ruby on Rails, Postgresql, React/Redux

An online restaurant-reservation website inspired by openTable, built on Ruby on Rails and React Redux.

- Implemented Redux lifecycle methods, AJAX calls, RESTful API to update user data.
- Created a reusable modal component for rendering "login/signup" forms.
- Using React Router to bootstrap user authentication check without querying backend SQL database.
- Seamlessly aligned the front-end with React and Redux and backend PostgreSQL database using JBuilder.
- Applied CSS Media Queries to fit content into different resolutions and achieved fully responsive design.

The End of Snake, Vanilla Javascript, Canvas

A puzzle platformer created with HTML5 and Canvas.

- Built with Object Oriented Programming principles in mind.
- Built custom collision detection in Javascript/Canvas, checking the player's position relative to the platforms.
- Implemented custom Javascript class states for player falling, movement through platforms and platform ejection.
